

Infiniti Achieves AWS Storage Competency Status

Sacramento, CA -- June 12, 2017

Infiniti, a Sacramento-based cloud services and IT consulting company, announced today that it has achieved Amazon Web Services \(AWS\) Storage Competency status. This designation recognizes Infiniti has demonstrated deep expertise that helps customers achieve their cloud storage goals.

Infiniti's President, Scott Drossos, commented, "Infiniti is delighted to be recognized with AWS Storage Competency status. Infiniti's talented staff of cloud storage experts thrive on serving our clients and leveraging AWS Cloud storage solutions that meet immediate and long term needs, and are architecturally sound."

Infiniti has a long and deep history of providing Cloud and IT solutions to the California public sector and achieving the AWS Storage Competency differentiates the company in California. In April, the California Department of Technology (CDT) awarded Infiniti a 7-year agreement to be California's sole source provider of AWS cloud storage solutions to government entities. The award came as a result of being selected through the state's competitive Vendor Hosted Storage Solutions (VHSS) bid. The agreement allows any California government funded client to procure directly from the CDT VHSS contract. The contract covers all types of AWS cloud storage solutions so California government customers can now seamlessly address their cloud storage needs through AWS.

Infiniti's AWS Storage Competency status supports the integration of the AWS Competency Program, of which Infiniti has already partnered with others such as NetApp, Commvault, CloudEndure and CloudBerry. Building a complete leading edge cloud storage solution often requires integration of leading third party storage products and services. Drossos added, "Infiniti's AWS Storage Competency status allows us to tailor a solution for any customer's cloud storage requirements – from primary storage, to back-up, archival or business continuity & disaster recovery – all these needs can be met through Infiniti on AWS cloud storage solutions."

Through the AWS Storage Competency, organizations can find quality AWS Partner Network (APN) members validated from internal AWS teams for storage that have the knowledge and experience to help them build a solution and leverage the AWS cloud to meet their requirements.
